

Our Last Day: Santiago - a fabled city full of vibrancy and colour as well as a spiritual place where pilgrims and those who have walked, cycled or ridden the Camino meet. We attended pilgrim's Mass and witnessed the Botafumeiro in operation with the most amazing singing as the organ resounded around the Cathedral. Was this a touch of heaven? I believe so.

"The pilgrim walks on strange lands going alone or with others. They look beyond, and beyond... The pilgrim's Way becomes a paradigm of life: this leads us to the ultimate goal. Christ is with us on the road and welcomes us in the end. There is no crying or pain in it, but the joy of Christ risen among the dead."

Thanks be to God who has kept us safe along the Way.
